

Student eligibility for FoodShare is complicated, let's break it down!

How many people are in your household?

Your household is considered whoever you buy and prepare food with. If you live with roommates but don't share food, your household is just you!

Is your income below the limit for your household size?

1 person - $2,430 | 2 people - $3,288
 3 people - $4,144 | 4 people - $5,000
 For each additional person add $858

There are some rules that keep fulltime students from being eligible for FoodShare.

If you answer yes to any of the following, FoodShare might be an option for you.

Are you participating in work study?

Do you have a physical or mental disability?

Do you also participate in an on-the-job training program?

Are you enrolled at least half time or more?

Are you a single parent or have a child in your household?

Are you employed or self-employed an average of 80 hours a month?

Are you on a meal plan?

If it provides more than half of your meals you would not be eligible for FoodShare.

Are you an international student?

Those in the US on a student visa (F visas) are not eligible for FoodShare.

Contact Feeding Wisconsin

Applying is fast, easy, and confidential.

Call: 1-877-366-3635 or visit www.getaquestcard.org

Se habla español

The FoodShare Helpline is a service of Feeding Wisconsin and its member food banks. This project has been funded at least in part with Federal funds from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The contents of this publication do not necessarily reflect the view or policies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. Government.

These institutions are equal opportunity providers.

